Town Crier to host

Miceli and Newhouse debates

By AMY PETERSON

WILMINGTON - As summer finally heats up so does the political season. The race for State Rep between incumbent Jim Miceli and challenger Mike Newhouse has swung into gear. The Town Crier has offered to host debate(s) between the two candidates, and they have accepted.

Newhouse first placed the challenge to Miceli late last week after revealing his belief that, his election to State Rep. would better serve the needs of the people of Tewksbury and Wilmington. "The voters of this district deserve to know the differences between Jim Miceli and myself," he said, "I believe that six debates between now and the Primary would help to familiarize residents of the district with our respective positions. They deserve to hear straight from me why I believe we can do better."

Miceli accepted the challenge from Newhouse, but noted that due to the constraints of active legislative session through the end of July, such debates would not be possible until some time in August.

"I welcome a debate with Michael Newhouse," he said, "I would like it to be a no holds barred debate with just an impartial moderator, no panel."

In past weeks, Newhouse has been critical of Miceli's voting preferences on amendments dealing with assault weapons bans, educational funding and tax relief. Miceli's responses to Newhouse's attacks have typically denounced Newhouse for lack of experience and confusion regarding amendment verbiage.

Miceli said, "In this debate, I hope to show emphatically, the

Commuter rail station

MBTA takes over train station project plans

By SEAN DEVLIN

WILMINGTON - Residents, business owners, and several local board members packed the Town Hall Monday evening to voice disapproval and to show support for the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority's new commuter rail station design.

The station, which is expected to cost approximately $5.2 million, would be built on the site of the existing depot on Route 38 and extend north displacing several of the businesses in the area to make way for the proposed 227-space parking lot accompanying the facility. MBTA officials have said that they intend to relocate any of the businesses displaced but have not taken any land as of yet.

"I haven't given anyone permission to talk to any owners," said MBTA Project Manager William Howell. "We're not ready to take property yet."

According to the current 30 percent design, Action Glass, Wilmington Grain, and the Veteran's of Foreign Wars post would be relocated while Big Joe's restaurant and Bagels to Boston remain on the site.

"I own a business on the main drag and I would hate to be relocated to some backstreet," said Selectman Michael McCoy, the proprietor of Michael's Place. "I wouldn't want to put anyone in a situation that would affect their livelihood."

Planning Board member Carol Hamilton agreed. "In taking away these businesses...you are eliminating half of the downtown business," she said.

On the other hand, some locals believe that the project is a major step in revitalizing the stretch of Main Street that has been described by some as "unsightly" and a "no man's land," with the promise of newly planted trees and landscaping, street lamps, and sidewalks.

"I think that this is good for the town of Wilmington," said Selectman James Rooney, who strongly supports the project. "It's been a long time coming and some people are skeptical. But, in these drawings I truly believe Wilmington could look like that. It'll be a town center that you can drive through without having to close one eye."

However, Planning and Conservation Director Lynn Duncan disagreed with the plan citing the poorly maintained parking facilities of other MBTA stations in the area and the lack of trees in the latest rendering.

"One tree is not enough for a 227-space parking lot," she said. "It seems that the MBTA is backing down from what was originally offered. What we see tonight in the plan is I'm not sure what you'd really see."

Public Safety Building

Selectmen vote favors naming of new building for Rocco

By SEAN DEVLIN

WILMINGTON - The Board of Selectmen voted 4-1 Monday night in favor of naming the town's new fire-safety building in honor of the late Rocco V. DePasquale.

DePasquale was a former Wilmington selectman, first "good guy" and a candidate for state representative, and the longtime owner of Rocco's Restaurant. He was 65-years-old when he died on June 7. The public safety building has been designed to house both police and fire personnel, but construction has yet to begin on the facility.

"Rocco contributed a great deal to this town and I think it's appropriate to pay tribute to his service," said Chairman Michael Newhouse. "Selectman (James) Rooney's suggestion to name the building for Rocco seems appropriate."

High bacteria count closes Silver Lake

By LISA CARRIERE

WILMINGTON - Were there a few disgruntled sun worshipers in Wilmington on Friday? After all of the rain we have had, it was lovely to see the sun. Perhaps not so lovely to see a sign at Silver Lake saying the popular swimming hole was temporarily closed. According to Health Inspector

Selectman Daniel Wandell voted against the dedication, saying that it was nothing against

Officer Harold Hubby

Wilmington Police Officer arrested

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON - A 38 year old Wilmington Police Officer is free on $10,000 bail after his appearance in a New Hampshire Court.

Harold "Buddy" Hubby, a 10 year veteran of the force, is charged with being an accomplice to receiving stolen property. Hubby was arrested by Massachusetts State Police without incident Tuesday morning July 14th and arraigned in Woburn District Court on fugitive from justice charges. He waived extradition and was taken by New Hampshire State Police to Rockingham County Court for arraignment.

According to Kelly Ayotte, Assistant Attorney General for New Hampshire, Hubby is charged with 5 Class A felony counts of accomplice to receiving stolen property. Hubby is charged with having solicited Kevin Brown, 39, of Newton, NH to retain 5 stolen tractor trailer box trailers on his property in Newton. Brown is charged with having retained the stolen trailers.

Brown, a truck driver and mechanic was arrested without incident June 3rd by New Hampshire State Police.

The trailers were stolen from Haverhill, Billerica, Springfield, and Brattleboro, VT. According to a Wilmington trucking firm, the average cost of a new trailer is between sixteen and twenty thousand dollars.

How the trailers were stolen is still under investigation by investigators from the Attorney General's Office and the New Hampshire State Police, Ayotte stated.

"It would be inappropriate for me to comment at this time" said Wilmington Police Prosecutor Jim Peterson.

According to Wilmington Deputy Police Chief Bernard Nally, Hubby has been relieved of duty. "He has been a fine officer, and has done his job well. Beyond that, I really can't comment, I'm not aware of all of the details" Nally said.

If convicted, Hubby faces a maximum of 15 years in jail on each count.

Nightcrawler debacle

Mother hopes for a quick resolution

By ERIN DOWNING

WILMINGTON - The mother of a 11-year-old who received notification that her son's business sign is in violation of the town's laws is hoping to resolve the matter.

As reported in the Town Crier July 8, Steven Stokes and Joshua Harrington constructed a bait stand in front of Joshua's house on Middlesex Avenue in Wilmington. Combining their last names, the sign on the stand reads "Harrinsto's Bait Shop."

Diane Harrington received a letter from the Wilmington Building Inspector, Daniel Paret July 6, informing her that the sign was in violation of Section 4.1.3 and 6.3.4.1 of the Zoning Bylaws.

According to Paret, he received an anonymous complaint about the sign. "I follow up on all complaints," informed Paret.

The letter to the Harringtons told them to contact him immediately to discuss the issue. Mrs. Harrington confirmed that she called Paret on July 9. "He [Paret] told me that the sign was too big. He suggested bringing the kids with me the next day to meet with him. But I didn't," said Harrington. She explained that she does anticipate meeting with Paret. "I just would like to know the next step," she stated. The sign was taken down after they received Paret's letter.

F & R Auto on Lowell St., Wilmington hosted the Delco racing car and driver on Thursday as part of their summer-long promotion. Shown waiting for their turn to drive, just kidding, are Propitiator Harvey Freeman, his assistant Renee Jacobson and Delco's real driver Tom Stover. A drawing for a mini race car was held. Maria Tirado or Woburn was the lucky winner.

Blood drive July 29 at Tewksbury K of C Hall

TEWKSBURY - Tewksbury's Community Super Summertime Blood Drive will be held Wednesday, July 29 from 2 to 8 p.m. at Knights of Columbus Hall, 2068 Main St., Tewksbury.

The event is sponsored by the Masons. For more information call 851-5503 or the American Red Cross at 800-258-0025.

Summer is an extremely difficult time of year to meet patient blood needs. During the summer months, the number of donations decrease due to schools being in recess and local patrons and employees being away on vacation. Over 1,000 units of blood are needed every day to support the blood supply in the New England region. To achieve this goal, we need the commitment of everyone who is eligible to give blood.

Those who are in general good health and weigh at least 110 pounds may be eligible to donate blood.

It's YOUR Money
by Joyce Brisbois

SHOULD YOU BORROW FROM YOUR 401(K)?

Many 401 (k) plans are structured so that participants can borrow from their accounts, essentially paying themselves back at reasonable rates for the use of the money. But there are good reasons not to touch that money.

* An outstanding loan almost locks you into your job. If you leave before the loan is paid back, you have limited time to settle the debt. Otherwise, the loan is considered a withdrawal from the retirement account—subject to income taxes plus a 10 percent penalty if you're under 59 1/2.

If you stop contributing until the loan is paid back, there will be lots less at retirement time. One General Accounting Office study says workers could lose 20 percent of their potential total retirement nest egg.

The bottom line: Don't borrow for less-than-vital reasons; and keep investing in the 401(k) while you repay the loan.

We always keep an eye on the bottom line. We're the tax and finances people at

Disaster aid available

FEMA coming through for flood victims

Q. How do I apply for disaster assistance?

A. The only way to apply is by calling the toll-free Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) registration number: 1-800-462-9029 (TTY: 1-800-462-7585), where a registrar will record the information necessary to process your application. You'll need your Social Security number, address of the damaged property, your current address and a phone number where you can be contacted.

Q. I have insurance, but I don't know if it's enough. Am I eligible for disaster assistance?

A. If you sustained damage from the recent disaster, you are encouraged to apply for disaster assistance, whether or not you have insurance. You may be eligible for assistance under the federal and state programs. File for your insurance first, then apply for assistance by calling the toll-free appli-

Q. What can I do with the money I receive? Must I use it as directed in the letter?

A. The money you receive from FEMA under the Disaster Housing Program, or from the State of Massachusetts under the Individual and Family Grant program must be used as directed in the accompanying letter.

Q. The check I received didn't cover all my damage. Is there anything further I can do?

A. You have the right to appeal any decision. The appeal process is outlined in the letter you received with your check. You can write a letter detailing your needs and justifications for more money. You have 60 days to appeal.

Q. Why did I get an SBA loan application when I registered with FEMA for disaster assistance?

A. Once you register for disaster assistance and have been considered for the Disaster Housing Pro-

Toll free help line

A special toll-free telephone number is in operation to assist people affected by the heavy rains and flooding that struck eastern Massachusetts June 13-July 6. The number can be used to register for a wide range of state, federal and voluntary disaster assistance programs.

Sharon Stoffel of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and Peter LaPorte of the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) said those affected by the heavy rains and flooding may apply for assistance immediately by calling the toll free number, 1-800-462-9029, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week. Hearing or speech impaired persons may call TTY 1-800-462-7585.

President Clinton declared five Massachusetts counties a federal disaster area on June 23 following the recent heavy rains and flooding. The designated counties are Bristol, Essex, Middlesex, Norfolk, and Suffolk counties. The declaration opens the way for a wide range of federal and state disaster assistance for those affected by the heavy rains and flooding in these counties.

Deadline for applying is August 22, 1998

cation number listed above.

Q. I registered for FEMA, but I have a lot of questions about getting help. What do I do?

A. FEMA offers a toll-free HELPLINE to address disaster aid questions. Just call 1-800-525-0321 (TTY: 1-800-660-8055) for answers to your questions.

Q. How long before I see an inspector?

A. An inspector should contact you within three to five days to make an appointment to meet you at the property and inspect the damages. If it's been about two weeks and you haven't heard from FEMA, call the HELPLINE.

Q. What assistance can I get?

A. There are many forms of disaster assistance under various federal and state programs. They include housing assistance - rental, repair or mortgage assistance; U.S. Small Business Administration low-interest home and business loans; and state administered grants to meet serious disaster-related needs and necessary expenses not covered by insurance or other federal, state or voluntary agency disaster assistance programs.

gram, you are automatically referred to SBA. It is important that you complete the SBA loan application to be considered. If not approved for a loan, you may be referred to other assistance programs such as the Individual and Family Grant Program administered by the State of Massachusetts.

Q. Is the SBA loan application hard to complete?

A. No. The loan application is easy to fill out, asking the same type of information any lender would ask. If you need help, SBA personnel can explain the forms and help you at no cost. Visit a Federal/State Disaster Recovery Center in your area, or call the SBA at 1-800-659-2955.

Q. If I don't qualify for an SBA loan, what assistance do I qualify for?

A. If SBA finds you ineligible for a low interest loan, you will automatically be considered in the Individual and Family Grant Program for a grant of up to $13,400 to meet disaster related serious needs or necessary expenses - such as funeral or medical - not covered by other programs.

Federal Trade Commission

Watch out for scams!

WASHINGTON, D.C. - You don't have to pay for information about job vacancies with the U.S. Government or U.S. Postal Service, but scam artists are victimizing many Americans by selling information about federal job opportunities. These scam artists advertise in the classified sections of newspapers and offer - for a fee - to help job seekers find and apply for federal jobs. Some fraudulent companies even try to confuse consumers by using names like the "U.S. Agency for Career Advancement," or the "Postal Employment Service," which sound like federal agencies.

Scam artists may lie about the availability of federal job openings in your area. For example, the Postal Service has few vacancies for career positions. For many of the entry jobs you must take a written examination first, Test 470. Postal Service hiring takes place through 85 district offices at the local level. If a private party tells you that postal jobs are available, check with the Postal Service to determine if hiring is taking place and if the exam is required for eligibility. Because of the high volume of applicants taking the test, it is only offered every few years in any given district.

Information about U.S. government jobs is available free. Federal agencies and the U.S. Postal Service never charge application fees, or guarantee that an applicant will be hired. If positions require a competitive examination and many do not, hiring agencies typically offer free sample questions to consumers who sign up for the exam.

It is deceptive for anyone to guarantee you a high score on Tests 460 and 470, the postal entrance exams for rural carrier associate, clerk, city carrier, mail handler, flat sorter machine operator, mail processor or markup clerk. These exams test your general aptitude, not your knowledge of facts. Attending workshops, studying exam techniques, and taking practice questions will not assure you of a top score on any postal exam. Indeed, a top score does not guarantee that you will be hired. You must meet other requirements, including passing a background check and a drug test. Veterans receive hiring preferences.

The Federal Trade Commission and the U.S. Office of Personnel Management say certain techniques are tip-offs to federal and postal job rip-offs.

* Classified ads or oral sales pitches that imply an affiliation with the federal government, guarantee high test scores or jobs, or state that "no experience is necessary."

* Ads that offer information about "hidden" or unadvertised federal jobs.

* Ads that refer to a toll free phone number. Often, in these cases, an operator encourages you to buy a "valuable" booklet containing job listings, practice test questions, and tips for entrance exams.

* Toll free numbers that direct you to other pay-per-call numbers for more information. Under federal law, any solicitations for pay-per-call numbers must contain full disclosure about cost. Also, the solicitation must make clear if there is an affiliation with the federal government. You must have a chance to hang up before you incur any charges.

If you have concerns about a company's advertisement for employment services, contact:

* Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 202-FTC-HELP (382-4357).

* U.S. Postal Inspection Service

(USPIS). Your local USPIS office is listed in the blue (Government) pages of your telephone directory.

* The National Fraud Information Center (NFIC), a project of the National Consumers League, www.fraud.org.

* Your state attorney general, or your local Better Business Bureau. Federal job information is available through the U.S. Office of Personnel Management's USA Jobs information system. Call:

Nationwide, 912-757-3000
TDD Services, 912-744-2299

In addition, job information is available at www.usajobs.opm.gov. Information on postal jobs is available at your local post office. In many areas, the Postal Service offers a job information hotline with current hiring announcements. Also, check the Postal Service web site at www.usps.gov.

For more information on avoiding other fraudulent practices, visit the Federal Trade Commission at www.ftc.gov.

Welfare Office serves Woburn area Recipients want pay checks, not welfare WOBURN - More than 30,000 of the original 41,039 Massachusetts welfare families facing a December cutoff of cash benefits have already permanently or temporarily closed their cases.

State law restricts cash assistance to able-bodied recipients whose youngest child is at least two years old, approximately one-half the case load, to 24 months in a 60-month period. Of the 41,039, only 11,035 have received checks continuously through April, which is 17 of the 24 allotted months.

"We expect this remarkable exodus of welfare recipients into the work force to continue as families strive for, reach and maintain self-sufficiency," said Department of Transitional Assistance Commissioner Claire McIntire.

McIntire also said that DTA will issue proposed regulations this summer that will spell out the criteria for extensions to the time limit allowable under the state's 1995 welfare reform law.

"For the most part, welfare recipients have focused on finding work and we don't expect that the formal introduction of the extension policy will change that mindset," said McIntire.

The Massachusetts welfare rolls have declined for 57 straight months and have gone down by more than 37 percent since the state's welfare reform law was signed in February 1995. There are currently 64,588 families receiving public assistance, down more than 59,000 cases from the state's all-time high of 123,823 in March 1981.

The Woburn Office, which services the towns of Bedford, Burlington, Lexington, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham, Wilmington, Winchester and Woburn, reports 279 time limited cases, 95 cases receiving benefits continuously through March 31, 1998, 95 cases receiving benefits continuously through May 30, 1998, and 34.1 percent receiving checks 17 months out of 17 months.

Welfare recipients who went to work during the past year are earning an average hourly wage of $7.06.

The time-limited provision of the state law was implemented in December 1996. While it restricts cash assistance to 24 months, it does not cut off either Food Stamps or Medicaid.

Workshops will help reduce pollution

LAWRENCE - "Achieving a beautiful environmentally friendly lawn and yard is much easier than you might expect. There are several easy ways to plan and maintain your lawn and yard without unnecessary watering and chemical use. We all say it would be so much easier with advice from a trained landscape designer or ecologist and now is your chance for both!" said Jane Sergi of Merrimack River Watershed Council (MRWC).

The MRWC, with support from the Environmental Flight at Hanscom Air Force Base will be presenting three workshops at Hanscom Air Force Base for base residents and the general public addressing watershed friendly landscaping techniques. The workshop will be taught by MRWC's own landscape designer. Advice, information and resources will be available to all participants.

The first workshop session has passed but the second and third are still upcoming. The first discussed our connection to our watershed and the basic concepts of watershed friendly landscaping, such as using native plants, minimizing chemical fertilizers and pesticides and attracting wildlife such as unusual birds and butterflies. The second session will be a walking tour of some residential sites on base. On the tour, we will look at the assets and concerns of some of the participants' yards, and discuss some techniques for watershed friendly improvements. Household hazardous waste reduction and alternatives for the home, yard and car will be the third session's topic.

All of these sessions are free to the public. Area residents are encouraged to attend all three, however, they are welcome to attend only those that interest the most.

They will be held at the Community Center Building 1998, Ent Road: Hanscom Air Force Base.

Session 2, Base Landscaping Tour: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly; Wednesday, July 29, 6 to 8 p.m.

Session 3, Making a Watershed-Friendly Home and Yard; Wednesday, August 12, 6 to 8 p.m.

For more information contact Jane Sergi at the Merrimack River Watershed Council at 978-681-5777.

Proposal for Route 93 Break down lane to open to N.H. border

WILMINGTON - A design public hearing will be held by the Massachusetts Highway Department to discuss the proposed transportation improvements for I-93 in the town of Wilmington.

The meeting is being held to provide the public with an opportunity to become fully acquainted with the proposed transportation improvement project. All views and comments made at this hearing will be received and considered to the maximum extent possible.

The proposed project will improve I-93 from Wilmington to the New Hampshire state border. The project area begins just north of the I-93/Route 125 Interchange where I-93 narrows from eight lanes to six lanes, and continues north to the New Hampshire border, a distance of 17 kilometers (10.5 miles). This segment of I-93 lies within the town of Wilmington, Tewksbury, Andover and Methuen.

The purpose of the project is to ease the traffic congestion during the daily peak periods by converting the existing shoulder lanes to general purpose travel lanes. Use of shoulder lane as a travel lane requires the construction of emergency turnouts beyond the edge of the existing pavement to provide refuge for disabled vehicles when the breakdown lanes are used for travel. These turnouts are planned approximately every 0.8 kilometers (0.5 miles) along I-93 within the project area; except for locations where exit ramps can be used for emergency egress from the roadway.

The proposed project comprises the minimal level of improvements needed to reduce peak period congestions in the project area without constructing new lanes.

All work will be done within the existing State Highway Layout.

The hearing will take place in room 9 of Wilmington Town Hall on 121 Glenn Rd. on Monday, July 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Donate your car to the Boys & Girls Club

LOWELL - Do you have an unwanted car in your yard? *Would you like to get rid of the car and donate to the Boys & Girls Club? If you answered yes to either of these questions, then read below.

The Boys & Girls Club of Greater Lowell has started a program where your used car can be picked up at your house, towed away and at the same time the bluebook value of the car donated to the Boys & Girls Club.

All you have to do is call toll free 1-800-246-0493 and sit back and let the work be done for you. It doesn't matter whether your car is new or old, running or up on blocks. Your car will be towed away and a donation made to the Boys & Girls Club in your name!

Please consider this opportunity to help the Club that helps over 1,600 boys and girls make the right choice.

Just working on my books and my tan

Summer passions, prose, Pride and Prejudice

By MICHELLE LEE

Summertime has been great to me. For the past month or so, I've been able to sleep in a little later, work on my tan, hang out with my friends, and appreciate all of the other summer perks. One thing that has kept me focused this summer has been my summer reading.

Summer reading is something that most students dread. The schools advocate it by encouraging students to read three books during the summer and write about them through a choice of topics. If a student meets all of the requirements, three points are added to his or her average for the first semester in their English course.

For me, summer reading is hardly a chore. I'll admit it, I like reading. Throughout my childhood, I have always enjoyed reading. I remember growing up with the Sweet Valley Twins, Nancy Drew, and Laura Ingalls Wilder. Even now, I enjoy reading, although my hectic schedule doesn't allow me to read as much as I'd like to. Yet this summer, reading has taken another role.

Next fall, I will begin my Advanced Placement (AP) British Literature course. This is an intense English course taught by Ms. Jennifer Brooks. To prepare for this course, Ms. Brooks met with my small class of approximately fifteen before the school year ended. She assigned us three books to read: Brave New World by Aldous Huxley, Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austen, and Pillars of the Earth by Ken Follett. Each book must be read with journal entries that follow accordingly with each reading. For instance, different values are discussed in Huxley's work, and each student must write about at least eight values. But these aren't any old journal entries. They will be graded based on quality and clarity of thought, and each novel has different topics to cover.

After reviewing the assignment, I quickly realized that this would be a tough assignment. It would be long and require lots of work. I began my summer reading a week after school got out because I feared procrastination. I decided to tackle this assignment one book at a time, and began with the novel, Brave New World.

This project is tough. I'll admit that I often lose motivation to pick up the book and begin reading. But my passion for reading, along with my mom's persistence, has pushed me to continue on. As the days began getting busier, I found it harder to get myself into the reading. So I set a deadline for myself. The first novel must be finished by the time I leave for camp, July 13th.

The second novel must be finished by the end of the July. And the entire month of August is devoted to the last novel, all nine hundred and eighty three pages.

After reading two hundred sixty seven pages and writing over twenty-nine pages, I finished my first novel and I'm happy to say that I'm ahead of schedule. As I begin my next book, I give out a long sigh. I know that it will be a lot of work. Yet in the back of my head, a little voice tells me to keep going. I know that although this assignment is time-consuming, it will be worth it in the end.

I encourage everyone else to get started on their summer reading, whether or not they are taking the AP course.

To those brave fifteen, I wish them the best of luck - I know I need it!

Former Tewksbury resident killed on July 4

BOSTON — The Boston Police Crime Stoppers Unit has become involved in the case of a local man killed in a hit-and-run accident at a fireworks display in Boston on July 4.

The Boston Police Crime Stoppers Unit (1-800-494-TIPS) is seeking information, and possibly offering a reward, for information on the death of Edrick "Ricky" Smith, 39, a Woburn resident.

Smith was an Army veteran and former Tewksbury resident.

He was employed as a telecommunications technician at M/A COM in Burlington.

According to Boston Police, Smith was found by an off-duty firefighter behind the Chart House Restaurant on Long Wharf suffering from severe head and leg injuries. He was transported to Massachusetts General Hospital, but was pronounced dead.

Boston Police say they believe Smith was hit by a car and dragged several feet and they believe someone witnessed the incident.

All information provided to the Crime Stoppers line is confidential and callers can remain anonymous.

Smith is remembered as an avid outdoorsman who enjoyed fishing, camping and gardening.

Smith leaves a wife, Cynthia, and two sons, Edrick A. "Ricky" Smith III and Austin R. Smith, of Woburn.

Winchester Police warn area residents to beware of scams, thieves

By CHRIS CONNELLY

WINCHESTER — Area police are warning residents to beware of thieves and their scams after several recent incidents.

In Winchester three incidents that fit the profile associated with Gypsy crimes were reported within the last week.

According to Lt. James Pierce, two house breaks happened while residents were either in the yard or in the cellar.

The thieves took jewelry and ransacked the bedrooms.

Pierce said the profile of these thieves includes the following description: short, heavy set, dark curly hair, possibly ponytails, about 30 years of age, usually speaking with a southern European accent, and often working in teams.

Yard work and driveway sealing scams are well known, as well as one member of the team distracting a resident while an unseen partner gains access to the home and quickly ransacks it, looking for small, easily concealed valuables.

Pierce said that during the summer teams of these people hit the road and work an area for several months before returning to the New Jersey/New York region.

Pierce urged residents to be cautious and to keep their doors locked as much as possible and to be very wary of unsolicited home improvement proposals.

"One of the most popular scams is that they say they just finished a job in the neighborhood and have some left over supplies that could be used on your driveway for a great deal. It's a scam," Pierce said.

Bishop's visit fills St. Elizabeth's

by JANE GILLETTE

WILMINGTON - It's gotta take something good to fill a church on a beautiful Saturday morning, and on June 27th, Saint Elizabeth's Episcopal Chapel in Wilmington was full. Parishioners and visitors gathered for a day of celebration as Bishop Barbara C. Harris came for the annual bishop's visitation, installed the Rev. Joseph Pinho as the vicar of St. Elizabeth's and received Laura DeMarco into the Episcopal Church.

The Reverend Pinho has been at the chapel since the middle of March. The previous vicar was the Reverend Deborah Phillips. The Reverend Pinho, a former Roman Catholic priest, is a convert to the Episcopal Church. Making that transition, he studied the Anglican traditions of the Episcopal Church, and has recently been giving a sermon series on what it means to be Episcopalian. As a half-time minister at the chapel, his other occupation is as director of a family counseling center in Malden, where he is also a therapist.

Visitors to the chapel were primarily from other local churches where the Reverend Pinho has worked, including St. Luke's and St. Margaret's Episcopal Church in Allston-Brighton, and St. John's Episcopal Church in Jamaica Plain. April Sutton came from Ebenezer Baptist Church, Roxbury, to sing "Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus," one of many musical pieces in the service. Her singing moved many in the congregation to tap along in time, no small feat for "reserved"

Episcopalians. Also visiting with the gift of music was organist Jeffrey Brody from St. Luke's and St. Margaret's. Saint Elizabeth's Choral sang "Taste and See," and the chapel's own Holly Thompson played Faure's "Morceau De Concert" on the flute.

Bishop Harris delivered a sermon about how living as a Christian is radical and different, which is why it can be so hard sometimes. Downstairs a pot luck buffet luncheon had been expertly organized by Sarah Cosman and the Hospitality Committee. In a discussion with the congregation after the meal, Bishop Harris talked about available resources in the diocesan office, how to connect teenagers with the church, and the upcoming Lambeth International Anglican Bishop's Conference which happens every 10 years in Canterbury, England. Much has happened in the Episcopal Church in the past decade. Bishop Harris is the Episcopal Church's first woman bishop, consecrated in 1988. She will be attending the conference of approximately 800 bishops which will include 10 other women bishops.

After the meeting with the congregation, the bishop and her assistants met with the vestry and other primary groups at the chapel. Bishop Harris voiced her delight at the enthusiasm and spiritual energy of the community. By the time she left, St. Elizabeth's officially had a new vicar, a new member, and a lot of new ideas. It was certainly a spirit-filled and productive Saturday.

Obituaries

Alice M. Littlefield active in volunteering in Tewksbury

TEWKSBURY - Mrs. Alice M. (McEachern) Littlefield, 79, a well known and extraordinarily active volunteer, died Thursday evening, July 9, 1998 at Sunny Acres Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Chelmsford after a brief illness. She was the widow of Richard A. Littlefield who died in 1990.

She was born in Boston, November 17, 1918, the daughter of the late Ernest and Lillian (Cameron) McEachern. She was raised in Boston's South End, but had lived in Tewksbury since 1955.

In her earlier years, she worked at Necco candy company in Cambridge, and later at Raytheon in Waltham.

Since 1990, she had become active as a volunteer on a daily basis at Tewksbury Hospital and was an original member of the Senior Friends of Mrs. Morris' Class at the Loella Dewing Elementary School. She was an officer of the Tewksbury Golden Age Club, serving a current term as sergeant-at-arms, and was involved in most activities sponsored through the Tewksbury Senior Drop-in Center. She developed many close friendships through senior day trips and vacations, and was a willing and eager participant at the annual Friends of the Tewksbury Elderly Talent Show, Memorial Day Parade and senior cheerleading events. She was also a communicant of St. William's Church.

Mrs. Littlefield is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Barbara and Daniel Hildreth of Wrentham, Anne Marie and Chester Burgess of Tewksbury; two sons and daughters-in-law, Thomas and Lisa (Stein) Littlefield of Londonderry, N.H., Stephen and Cynthia (Bond) Littlefield of Tyngsboro; two sisters, her twin Dorothy Dillen of Wollaston, and Margaret Nulick of Walpole; six grandchildren, Diane Casazza, Leanne DeCosta, Daniel Hildreth, Ashley, Justin and Nathan Littlefield; three great-grandchildren, "Stephen Burgess, Katie Casazza and John Michael DeCosta.

She was also the mother of the late Richard Littlefield and sister of the late Joseph, James, and Ernest McEachern.

Her funeral was held Monday, July 13 at 10 a.m. in St. William's Church, followed by burial in Tewksbury Cemetery.

Memorial contributions to the Friends of the Tewksbury Elderly, Tewksbury Senior Drop-in Center, Chandler St., Tewksbury, MA 01876, or the Greater Lowell VNA Hospice Program, P.O. Box 1965, Lowell, MA 01853, will be appreciated. Arrangements were under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Paul J. Lynch, Jr. member Teamsters Union

WILMINGTON - Paul J. Lynch, Jr., 54, of Wilmington, died July 13, 1998 at Lawrence General Hospital in Lawrence.

Born in Winchester, he was the son of retired Police Chief Paul J. Lynch, Sr. and Ruth E. (Baldwin) Lynch, both of Wilmington. He graduated from Wilmington High School and was employed as a truck driver and was a member of the Teamsters Union Local #25.

In addition to his parents Mr. Lynch is survived by his brother Kevin Lynch of Methuen, his sister Marlene Russo and her husband Richie, both of Dracut, his nieces Marissa Lynch of Arundel, Maine, Allison Lynch of Methuen, Amanda and Alicia Russo both of Dracut. Several aunts, uncles and cousins also survive.

Funeral services will be held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main St. (Rt. 38), Wilmington, Thursday morning at 8:45 followed by a funeral mass at St. Dorothy's Church at 10 a.m.

Memorials in his name maybe made to the charity of one's choice.

Marion L. McIntosh last of Wilmington McIntosh family

MEDFORD - Marion L. McIntosh, 92, died at the Courtyard Nursing Care Center in Medford July 6, 1998, following a short illness.

A retired school teacher, Miss McIntosh taught in the lower grades for a total of 41 years with the first two years (1927 and 1928) at the Whitefield School in Wilmington and all her remaining years in Medford.

She lived in Medford most of her life and was a member of the Medford Wesley United Methodist Church for 70 years. In addition to volunteering many hours of work for the church ladies groups, she was a volunteer worker in the gift shop at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford.

Marion was the last member of a

McIntosh family that lived in Wilmington for more than 100 years; it included Schaniel, John, Willie, Charles, Julia and Sarah.

She is survived by cousins Clara (Chapman) Daley and Ellsworth Chapman, both of Bathurst N.B., Canada; plus Julia (Webber) Fielding of Wilmington.

Her funeral was held Thursday, July 9, 1998 in the Wesley United Methodist Church, Medford, followed by interment in her parental lot, Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington, MA.

Donations made in her memory to the Wesley United Methodist Church, Medford will be appreciated.

Marion C. Murphy retired Wilmington treasurer/tax collector

WILMINGTON - Marion C. (Sullivan) Murphy, 72, of Wilmington, died July 10, 1998 at Winchester Hospital.

Born in Somerville, she was the daughter of the late Daniel F. and the late Marion (Smith) Sullivan. She served as tax collector and treasurer for the Town of Wilmington for over 30 years and was the deputy inspector of Precinct Six for election officers and an officer of the Wilmington Town Employees' Credit Union. Mrs. Murphy was also a former member of American Legion Post 136, Wilmington.

She was the widow of Francis L. Murphy and is survived by her sister Catherine McLean and her husband George both of Somerville and her brother Daniel Sullivan and his wife Evelyn both of Wilmington; her special friend Phyllis Lockhart of Wilmington and many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

Her funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main St. (Rt. 38), Wilmington, Monday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas and interment in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Memorial donations made in her name to the American Cancer Society, 66 Y Concord St., Wilmington, MA 01887, will be appreciated.

Ruth A. Hanson 18 years with AGFA, Wilmington

TEWKSBURY - Ruth A. (Rourke) Hanson, 65, of Tewksbury died Saturday morning, July 11, 1998 at Saints Memorial Medical Center.

She was the wife of former Tewksbury Selectman Richard "Pete" Hanson.

Born in Lowell November 7, 1932, she was the daughter of the late Fred M. and Ruth V. (Higgins) Rourke. She graduated from the Sacred Heart Grammar School and Lowell High School.

Mrs. Hanson was employed for 18 years as a circuit board assembler for AGFA in Wilmington.

She was a communicant of St.

William's Church.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Hanson is survived by her son and daughter-in-law, Kevin M. and Lisa A. Hanson of Tewksbury; two grandchildren, Melissa K. and Matthew K. Hanson, both of Tewksbury; a sister, Joan Record of Lowell; a brother-in-law, William P. McGarry of Tewksbury and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the Mahoney Funeral Home of Lowell, followed by a funeral mass at St. William's Church and burial in St. Patrick's Cemetery.

St. Elizabeth's participated in raising $300,000 for UNICEF

WILMINGTON - St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Chapel at the corner of Forest Street and Aldrich Road in Wilmington, was among the many participating organizations when New England students raised over $300,000 for UNICEF last Halloween.

The Halloween pumpkins and candy from last year are just a distant memory, but kids around the world are now benefiting from the money-laden orange boxes which were toted from door-to-door by Wilmington school children. This year New England students who went "trick-or-treating for UNICEF" raised over $300,000 for needy kids in developing countries, according to Vibha Gokhale, the program's coordinator.

These funds will provide much needed water, vaccinations, education and medical help to children in 160 developing countries. Projects designed to abolish harmful child labor can be funded now. The threat of malnutrition will be reduced significantly by introducing health education programs in places where poor nutrition causes the death of one out of every 50 children.

In 1998 State of the World's Children, UNICEF's annual report card, finds malnutrition responsible for a fatality rate greater than any infectious disease since the Black Death that swept through 14th century Europe and Asia.

Besides helping the world's neediest children, UNICEF New England provides curriculum guides, videos, orange boxes and other materials year-round to schools, religious organizations and social groups in local communities. These may be ordered by calling (800) 252-KIDS. UNICEF speakers may be requested by calling 1 (617) 277-3334.

Commuter rail station

Selectman Robert Cain also remained staunchly opposed to the new station plan questioning its benefit for the community. "I have not been in favor of Wilmington being chosen for a parking lot. Why should we embrace this?" he said, adding that the MBTA needs to clean up the existing eyesore along the tracks as was promised.

Howell defended the plan by saying that revenues from the lot, which he projected at about $1,200 per week, could be used to maintain the new station's surroundings and add more to the greenery.

"There is an opportunity for the town to take some of the revenue that the lot would generate and put it towards its own maintenance."

I'm trying to do whatever I can. I agree [the existing track-side maintenance facility] is unsightly and it's something that I wouldn't want in the downtown of my community," Howell said.

The fact that the transit authority is unwilling to undergo a site plan review was another major sticking point during the public hearing. According to Town Manager Michael Caira at last month's meeting, all projects of this magnitude are required to go through the review process, however, Howell stated Monday that it is not something that the MBTA has done in the past and will not be done now.

"The MBTA is not subject to a site plan review, but we will participate in a separate and informal site plan review," said Howell.

Some town officials were also upset over the fact that the project, once thought to be a joint development between the MBTA and the town, has been taken over with the transit authority assuming control.

"This is no longer a Wilmington project," said Caira. "This is an MBTA project. We want one that is compatible with the needs of Wilmington."

According to Howell, ideally the design would be 100 percent by February and the new station would be completed over the 1999 construction season. In the meantime, Howell said that he will look into the feasibility of moving the trackside maintenance facility and will report back by September.

Miceli and Newhouse to debate campaign issues lack of knowledge he (Newhouse) has in the legislative process. Every time he has made an assumption of my voting in the house, he has been incorrect."

Both candidates have arrived at a preliminary agreement to allow the Town Crier host the series of debates. First, the two will formally meet the week of Aug. 3 and iron out all details and set specific dates. Official dates, times and locations will be announced in the Town Crier when arrangements are finalized.

"I'm open to whenever and wherever," Newhouse said. "The sooner we can discuss these issues, the better."

Miceli said, "I very much look forward to this. It will show the residents of Tewksbury and Wilmington the truth about a lot of issues."

Selectmen's vote favors naming of new building for Rocco

DePasquale, but rather that he would have liked to have seen the building as a standing memorial to the firefighters and the police officers that have died while in the line of duty. Wandell went on to say that he had wanted to name the handicap-accessible fishing pier proposed for the shore of Silver Lake in memory of DePasquale.

"My intention was to name the pier, which was Rocco's idea, after him," said Wandell, a retired Wilmington fire chief. "Years ago there were two gentlemen that were killed in the line of duty. I wanted the fire and police building to serve as a memorial. It's nothing against Rocco."

Also, the selectmen read over a request from Chestnut Street resident James Hastings, who asked that the board consider naming the new Route 62 bridge in Rocco's memory. Because the bridge had previously been named in honor of Rep. James Miceli, the selectmen voted that the public fire-safety be named for DePasquale.

In the case that the bridge could not be rededicated, Hastings suggested that "something of lasting tribute be named in Rocco's memory as a constant reminder to every Wilmingtonite and visitor alike of the high esteem this town has for a beloved community-spirited citizen."

A HIGH SPEED CHASE in Woburn early Sunday morning led to the arrest of an East Woburn man, 17, on motor vehicle and drug-related charges. After barreling into a parked car on Auburn St., Woburn, the suspect led Woburn police on a pursuit through that town that ended with him being drawn out of the vehicle at gun point. Shown here the suspect is led away by a Woburn officer and Wilmington Officer Richter (right). (Robert Zampell photo)

Wilmington pursues Woburn teen in chase

WOBURN — An East Woburn man, 17, faces vehicular and drug charges after he led police from two communities on a high-speed chase through Woburn, early Sunday morning.

The suspect was charged with speeding, failure to stop for a police officer, unauthorized use of the motor vehicle and possession of a class D substance.

He was also cited for leaving the scene of an accident.

According to reports, the suspect, Kevin M. Dapedra, Munroe Avenue, rammed the rental truck he was driving into three cars on Auburn Street.

He headed west and eventually ended up on Cambridge Road, then onto Route 128 north, where police from Woburn and Wilmington picked up the chase and area police in Reading and other communities were alerted.

Speeds reportedly exceeded

75 mph.

The suspect got off the highway at the Washington Street exit and then pulled the truck over in Cummings Park, where he surrendered to police at gun point.

Upon investigation, police learned the truck was not rented to the suspect, who said he found the vehicle with the keys in it.

A search of the truck uncovered a marijuana cigarette inside a back pack allegedly owned by the suspect.

Reports indicate the suspect specifically targeted the Auburn Street, home where an acquaintance from school lives.

A slip of paper with the name of a resident of the Auburn Street home was found inside the rental truck.

From Woburn, Sgt. Robert Rufo and Officer Thomas Negri investigated. Sgt. Bob Richter investigated from Wilmington.

The arrest was made at about 3 a.m. on Sunday.

Nightcrawler debacle Mother hopes for a quick resolution

Paret said he did see the sign prior to its removal and had no idea it was made by kids. Mrs. Harrington expressed that she asked Paret whether he knew the sign belonged to kids. "He told me that he has seen worse signs than the boys'," she said.

Wilmington Town Manager, Michael Caira stated that he was upset by the July 8 article.

"Publishing the article was inappropriate and unprofessional," said Caira. "You've burned your bridges with me on the subject."

The Town Crier called Paret Wednesday morning. But, he was out of the office doing inspections.

The CBS "This Morning Show" is presently investigating the story.

Mrs. Harrington said she hopes to resolve the issue to determine whether the boys can continue the worm stand. "They obviously did a good job of running the business because they made $31 in three weeks," she added.

Short Stops

13-year-old Pony team back on track

After suffering two tough losses on Friday and Saturday, the Wilmington 13-year-old traveling Pony League baseball team got back on the winning track with a solid 3-1 win over Londonderry, N.H. on Sunday, the same team that gave them their first loss of the season of 9-5. With the win, the team is now 6-3 overall.

Billy Sinopoli notched his second straight outstanding win on the mound, tossing 88 pitches with 58 of them for strikes. He was in command throughout the entire game and in fact in his two complete game performance victories, he has given up just three runs on four hits in 14 innings.

Also playing well were Joe Downs, John Martin and John McMahan.

Major softball all-stars

Monday was their night; Tuesday was not

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Monday night everything went right for them, but Tuesday nothing went right for them. The "them" is the Wilmington major league softball all-star team. Right now the team is 1-1 as they will try to come out of the loser's bracket starting on Thursday in the double elimination play.

After clubbing their way to an 12-2 win on Monday night in Woburn, the girls came back home to Rotary Park the next night, suffering a tough 15-4 loss to Wakefield. The team will again be home on Thursday again starting at 5:45, but it's unknown who they will play.

After trailing 6-0 after the first two innings, Wilmington played much better in the last three (Mercy Rule came into an effect after five). They played better fundamentally and defensively, they just ran into a good Wakefield team who kept the Wildcat batters off balance.

With a tight strikeout zone in hand, Wakefield took advantage of just that with six free passes in the first three innings and eleven in all. Add to that a few errors here and there and Wakefield had the big lead and obviously the momentum. But Wilmington certainly didn't quit.

In the home half of the fourth, Wilmington scored three runs as Kristin Burns got things going with a base hit, and her teammates Corey Iosue and Maria Sorrentino followed reaching base on separate errors. Lauren Cushing kept the inning going with a RBI single and it was 9-3 after four.

In the top of the fifth Wakefield batted around scoring six more runs, but Wilmington's defense made some outstanding plays including ones from Burns at first, Lani Cabral-Pini at second and the tandem of Lauren Cushing and Sorrentino also did a very nice job behind the plate in the hot sun.

As for the bats, Wilmington only managed five hits off of a tough Wakefield hurler. Rappoli, Burns, Iosue, Shannon Fahey and Cushing had the base hits in the game.

Hopefully, Thursday the Cat's magic will see-saw back on their side.

The Wilmington Major All-Star softball team defeated Woburn American in their opening round District 13 game played at Woburn's Wheaton Field.

Wilmington's Heather Rogers gave up only three hits and three walks in four solid innings of pitching. Wilmington jumped out to an early lead in the first inning with lead off walks to Lani Cabal-Pini and Lauren Rappoli followed by back to back doubles by Shannon Fahey and Kristen Burns.

After another walk to Gina Ranno, solid back to back singles by Maria Sorrentino and Ashley Steenbruggen capped the scoring at six runs. As both teams settled down in the middle innings, Wilmington displayed its defense with an outstanding pick-off to Woburn's Katie Friel at third base by catcher Maria Sorrentino and shortstop Shannon Fahey.

However, the highlight defensive play belonged to substitute right fielder Corey Iosue. Shannon Fahey ranging far to her left to take away a sure base hit turned and fired high to first with Corey backing up the plan and caught a surprised Woburn base runner in an easy run down.

Wilmington put the game away in the bottom of the third scoring six unanswered runs with two outs. Starting the rally for Wilmington was little power keg Lani Cabal-Pini who lined a solid single to left field, after a couple of walks, three clutch two out singles were delivered by Gina Ranno, Corey Iosue and Ashley Steenbruggen.

On Tuesday night, first baseman Maria Sorrentino of the Wilmington Major League Softball All-Star team, found an extra moment to blow a bubble during the team's loss to Wakefield. (Photo by Joe Hakey).

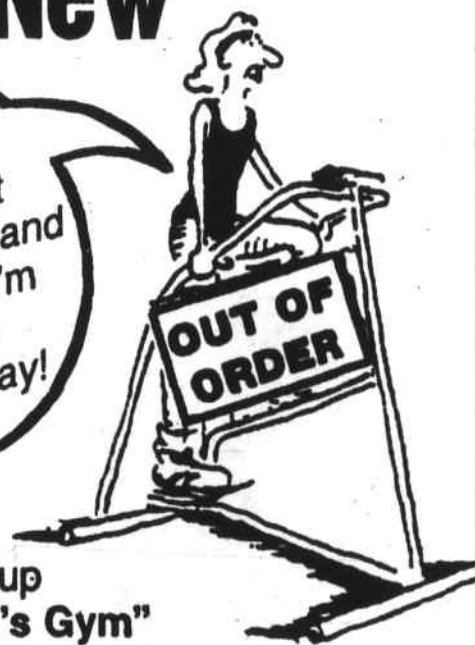

Wilmington Major League Softball All-Star catcher Lauren Rappoli makes a great play here as she blocked home plate and tagged out the incoming runner in Tuesday night's loss to Wakefield. (Photo by Joe Hakey).

Wilmington Major all-stars bounced in two

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The Wilmington major league all-star baseball team faced some very fierce competition as they were eliminated from play after two straight losses.

On Friday night the team traveled to Stoneham. After the first three innings Wilmington was leading 3-2, in a very even game. Starter Mike Kelley was pitching very well, but had to leave after the third due to arm soreness. Head coach Desi Catena then turned to John Stark and he was a victim of some bad luck as Stoneham was able to take the lead. In the end, Wilmington lost 12-2, as Peter Oliveira, Sean Godding, Ken Luongo and Kelley supplied the offense.

On Monday night, the team returned home to face a "very physically large Woburn team." Wilmington was overmatched as the Woburn pitcher Kevin Raffey had a no-hitter through the first innings until 10-year-old Bobby Sinopoli broke it up with a beautiful bunt. Again Wilmington could only manage two runs as the final was 8-2. One impressive note on the day was Luongo continued his hitting streak of the regular season, playoffs and all-star play to 18 games. Also playing well were Matt David and Jay DeMango who split mound duties.

Catena would like to thank league president Scott Winn and league player representative Phil Cole for all of their help during the entire season.

Extra practice paying off for 12 & under softball team

Winter workouts at "The Cage" and early morning practices are proving their value for the Wildcat 12 and under softball team. The squad won its third straight game 10-7 over Andover.

Lauren Cushing was the winning pitcher as she continually pitched out of difficult situations throughout the abbreviated game. Maria Sorrentino, Lauren's battery mate, and Jackie Rideout had the big hits for the Cats as they rallied from a five run deficit. Julie Martel and Lani Cabral-Pini's aggressive base running confused the opposition in the latter innings enabling the Wildcats to cement the victory.

Later in the week, the squad traveled to Saugus to play Metro champion Saugus. The Wildcats suffered their first loss of the year in a hard fought game 13-7.

Shannon Fahey with four hits and Katie Riley with two lead the offensive attack. Daring base running by Erin Cahill and Julie Martell kept a six-run inning alive and brought the Cats to within three of the host team.

Outstanding defensive plays by Katie Martell and Lani Cabral-Pini kept the visitors in the game for the full seven innings. Kristen Burns made her debut as a pitcher and struck out two in one inning.

Trombino also competes

Sandra Trombino, a 13-year-old student at the John Wynn Middle School in Tewksbury, recently competed in the Level 7 USAG State Gymnastic Championship Meet held in South Hadley. The USAG is the governing board of gymnastics in the United States, with levels ranging from 1-7 compulsories and 8-10 optional. The elite level gymnasts in America must compete through the USAG.

Sandra had to first compete through required local competitions to reach sectionals, which is the meet where a gymnast must score at least 33.0 to qualify for the State Meet. At this year's State Meet Sandra received medals on two events. She scored 9.10 on vault and 8.95 on floor to win eighth and 10th place respectively.

Sandra's highest all around score this season was an incredible 36.35. Her top individual event score was a 9.5, which she scored on the bars, earlier this year in New York. Sandra has had many opportunities to travel with the sport of gymnastics. Most recently she traveled to Lakeland, Florida to compete with gymnasts throughout the U.S. at the USAIGC National Meet.

Sandra is a team member of the Northeast Gymnastics Center in Tewksbury. Because of her success this season in Level 7, she will be moving on to Level 8 this fall.

Four Wilmington gymnasts representing Northeast Gymnastics Center

Northeast Gymnastics Center in Tewksbury wrapped up another successful gymnastics season with many of the team members making it to this year's State Meets including four from Wilmington.

Gymnasts must compete through local meets to make it to sectionals, which is the meet where a gymnast must score a 325 to qualify to compete in the USAG State Meet. The USAG is the governing board of gymnastics in America, with levels ranging from 1-6 compulsory and 7-10 optional. The following gymnasts trained between nine and 12 hours weekly to prepare for their competitions. Each one has had a successful season and has earned the qualifying score to move up to the next level of competition.

Jennifer Stone, an 11-year-old student at the Shawsheen School, competed in the Level 6 State Meet this season. She has had a successful season earning high scores on each event. Her top all around was 34.475. She received her other top scores on vault with an 8.75, balance beam with an 8.575, bars with an 8.89 and floor with an 8.875. Jennifer has been taking gymnastics since age five. She will be competing next season as a Level 7 gymnast.

Erin Brogan, an 11-year-old student at the Woburn Street School, competed at this year's State Meet in Level 5. Erin's top scores this season were 9.1 on the beam, 9.1 on the floor, and 9.0 on the vault. Her top all around score was 34.15. Erin's high scorers earned her second place all around trophies at two meets this season. She has been competing for Northeast Gymnastics Center for the past three years and will be moving up to Level 6 next season.

Jillian Stira, an 11-year-old student at the North Intermediate School, competed this season as a Level 5 gymnast. Jillian has been taking gymnastics lessons since age five. Her highest individual score this year was 8.65, which she earned on the vault. At this year's State Meet Jillian scored her highest all around of the season, 32.875. She will be competing next season as a Level 6 gymnast.

Caitlin Nee is a 13-year-old student at the North Intermediate School in Wilmington. She competed at this year's State Meet as a Level 6. She has been taking gymnastics for the past six years. Her accomplishments this year include season high scores of 8.9 on beam and 8.7 on floor.

Caitlin's top all around score in level 6 was 32.95. She has qualified to move on to Level 7 next season.

The Wilmington Stinger Girls Under 10-Team II youth soccer team recently finished a very impressive spring season. After hard work last fall in Division 2, the team was placed in Division 1 this spring and finished with an outstanding 6-1-2 record. The team went on to play in the Middlesex County Commissioner's Cup Championship Tournament where they competed as finalists. Congratulations Stingers and coaches on excellent teamwork and a great year of soccer.

Soccer camp July 27

Major League Soccer attracts more than 60,000 players to 1,200 camps nationwide each year. Wilmington youth soccer will be running a Major League Soccer Camp at Shawsheen Elementary School from July 27-31. The price of the camp is $55 for ages 5-6 from 9-10:30 am or 10:45-12:15 pm and $145 for ages 7 and up from 9-3 pm. Each camper will receive an evaluation, an MLS gift and a free companion ticket to an MLS game. Players will receive an official MLSC shirt and ball.

For more information about attending the camp, contact Elliot Kanter at 658-8777.

Tewksbury 10 and unders going to the New England Regionals

By finishing fifth in the State Tournament held this past weekend in Somerset, the Tewksbury Girls 10 and under softball Tournament Team earned a trip to the New England Regionals to be held in Vernon Ct. August 6, 7, 8 and 9.

The Tewksbury team played very well in this double elimination tournament, winning three games before bowing out of the tournament on Sunday.

Tewksbury opened up the tournament by facing a very powerful New Bedford team. Tewksbury lost 15-2, but played hard throughout the entire game. Kristen Smolinsky and Chrissie Costello had the only two hits for the Tewksbury team.

Tewksbury's next game was against Ashland. Tewksbury won by a score of 10-3. Offense was provided by Amanda Fogaren, Sharon Elliot, Chrissi Costello, Audrey Cutless, Terry Hill and Kristen Smolinsky. Excellent defense was turned in by Jerry Hill, Carley Martel, Michaela Marche, Jilisa Rawding, Heather Aceto and Sammy Macy.

In their third game of the day, Tewksbury beat Westport 13-4. Offense, Chrissie Costello 4-5, Sharon Elliot, Kristen Smolinsky, Amanda Fogaren (3-for-3), Heather Aceto. Another strong defensive effort by Samantha Macy, Carley Martel, Michaela Marche, Merry Hill, Audrey Cutless, Jilisa Rawding and Terry Hill.

The highlight of the tournament for Tewksbury was on Sunday morning when they played a very strong team from Norton. The Tewksbury team started off slowly both defensively and offensively and fell behind by a score of 9-0.

The girls never gave up, though. They fought hard and scored six runs in the third and five runs in the fourth to take the lead. Norton had base runners in each of the last two innings, but the Tewksbury defense held them off.

In the third inning Samantha May turned a single to right field into an out at first base. Amanda Fogaren then fired the ball home to catcher Heather Aceto who finished off the inning ending in a double play at the plate to kill any potential rally.

In the last inning Merry Hill made an excellent play at second for the first out. Then with two on and two out Jilisa Rawding made a fantastic catch in right field to end the game. Everyone contributed offensively.

In their final game Tewksbury took a 4-0 lead in the first inning. The girls were visibly tired but fought hard throughout the contest. Tewksbury led 6-5 going into the last inning, but could not hold on.

Townsend scored the winning run with two. Chrissie Costello, Kristen Smolinsky, and Heather Aceto all had two hits. Strong defense again by Audrey Cutless, Michaela Marche, Merry Hill, Carley Martel, Terry Hill and Samantha Macy.

It was a very exciting and successful weekend. Congratulations to the entire team!

WHEN IT'S YOUR MOVE!

Contacting different moving companies is one of the first steps in moving to a new house. You find a variety of service options and price ranges from which to choose, whether you are moving across town or thousands of miles across country.

Call several companies for estimates. Ask each company exactly how their charges are calculated and what is included. How much insurance is included in the estimate? What is the cost for additional coverage? Are there special provisions for fragile or unusually valuable items? Is the Delivery date guaranteed? If economizing is important, ask if there are ways to cut down on the bill by providing your own boxes and packing yourself. Household movers are competitive, and comparison shopping can help you get the best value for your moving dollars.

First Tewksbury track and field clinic a success

The first Tewksbury High Track and Field Clinic of the summer took place during the week of July 6 through the 10th. The 55 young athletes who took part learned many skills in running sprints and distances, throwing the shot, hurdling and long jump. The week concluded with an excellent track meet between the yellow shirts (the Shooting Stars) and the blue shirts (the Blue Speed Racers). The Shooting Stars won, 237 to 188, but there were great performances by athletes from both teams.

Colonial Automotive Group, Incorporated VS
The Town of Tewksbury, et al
TO: All persons interested in the matter of Town of Tewksbury Zoning By-Law, Section 4.6.F. as they affect the plaintiff's parcel of land located on Main Street in the Town of Tewksbury.

You are hereby notified that a complaint has been filed by the above named plaintiffs in which you are named as an interested party. This complaint concerns the Plaintiff's demand that the Court declare that the Zoning Bylaws governing and restricting the use of said premises for "automotive services," set forth at Section 4.6.F and footnote (2), as well as Section 10, are invalid illegal, unenforceable and therefore null and void as they deprive the plaintiff of the reasonable use of the premises as otherwise permitted within the Heavy Industrial District, that there is no definition of "similar use" or other standards to be applied by the Building Inspector, the Board of Appeals or other town boards and officials in interpreting said Zoning Bylaws, that said Zoning Bylaws provisions violate the requirement of uniformity as set forth in the Zoning Act within the zoning districts in which such uses are permitted, that said provisions do not bear a reasonable or rational relation to a permissible legislative objective or purpose under the Zoning Act on the local zoning Bylaws and such other relief as the Court deems just and proper.

This complaint may be examined at the Land Court, Boston, Massachusetts, or a copy obtained from plaintiffs' attorney.

If you intend to make any defense, you are hereby required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney, Jacob C. Diemert, Esq., Wilson & Orcutt, P.C. whose address is 201 Great Road, Action, MA 01720 an answer to the complaint on or before the seventeenth day of August next, the return day, hereof, and a copy thereof must be filed in this court on or before said day.

If you fail to do so, judgment by default will be taken against you for the relief demanded in the complaint. Unless otherwise provided by Rule 13(a), your answer must state as a counterclaim any claim which you may have against the plaintiffs which arise out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim or you will thereafter be barred from making such claim in any other action.

It is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order one time in the Tewksbury Town Crier, a newspaper published in the county of Middlesex one month at least before the seventh day of August.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A design public hearing will be held by the Massachusetts Highway Department to discuss the proposed transportation improvements for I-93 in the Town of Tewksbury.

WHERE: The Town Hall Auditorium
1009 Main Street,
Tewksbury, MA 01876
WHEN: Tuesday, July 28, 1998 at 7:30 P.M.

PURPOSE: To provide the public with an opportunity to become fully acquainted with the proposed transportation improvement project. All views and comments made at this hearing will be reviewed and considered to the maximum extent possible.

PROPOSAL: The proposed project will improve I-93 from Wilmington to the New Hampshire state border. The project area begins just north of the I-93/Route 125 Interchange, where I-93 narrows from 8 lanes to 6 lanes, and continues north to the New Hampshire border, a distance of 17 kilometers (10.5 miles). This segment of I-93 lies within the Towns of Wilmington, Tewksbury, Andover and Methuen, Massachusetts.

The purpose of the project is to ease traffic congestion during the daily peak periods by converting the existing shoulder lanes to general purpose travel lanes. Use of shoulder lane as a travel lane requires the construction of emergency turnouts beyond the edge of existing pavement to provide refuge for disabled vehicles when the breakdown lanes are used for travel. These turnouts are planned approximately every 0.8 kilometers (0.5 miles) along I-93 within the project area; except for locations where exit ramps can be used for emergency egress from the roadway. The proposed project comprises the minimal level of improvements needed to reduce peak period congestion in the project area without constructing new lanes.

All work will be done within the existing State Highway Layout.

Written views received by the Department subsequent to the date of this notice and up to five (5) days prior to the date of the hearing shall be displayed for public inspection and copying at the time and date listed above.

Written statements and other exhibits in place of, or in addition to, oral statements at the public hearing regarding the proposed undertaking are to be submitted to Thomas F. Broderick, P.E., Chief Engineer Massachusetts Highway Department, Ten Park Plaza, Boston, Massachusetts 02116. Such submissions will also be accepted at the hearing. The final date for receipt of these statements and exhibits will be ten (10) days after the public hearing.

Plans will be on display for one half hour before the hearing, with an Engineer in attendance to answer questions regarding this project.

Ma & Pop Neilson's farm

The Elms of Wilmington

by CAPT. LARZ NEILSON

WILMINGTON - On the corner of Glen Road and Harnden Street in Wilmington is a farmhouse which was constructed about 1795. The man who built it was related to the Carter family which lived on Main Street near the Tewksbury line. His name cannot be remembered. He moved to Charlestown or maybe Cambridge about 1800 and became an attorney of note.

To Wilmington families that home on Glen Road became Pop's House sometime after 1900. Christian Neilson and his wife Christina were emigrants from Denmark about 1880 and lived in East Woburn. There were six children and the couple bought a farmhouse with 100 acres off Chestnut Street in Wilmington.

One hundred acres meant a lot of work. Mrs. Neilson acquired boarders from among the men who worked in the patent leather shops in Woburn but 100 acres was lots of land.

Wilmington had a nice pond, Sandy Pond. Today it is called Silver Lake. The Boston Ice Company, in those days before electric refrigerators sold ice to families with ice boxes.

The Boston & Lowell Railroad Company had been constructed many years before and to the Boston Ice Company, Sandy Pond was another source for ice, if a track could be constructed. The Boston Ice Company purchased the farmhouse on the hill in which their employees could live and they persuaded the railroad to construct a track to Sandy Pond. Then the ice company constructed a huge ice house, about where the Wilmington town beach is today. It was destroyed about 1925.

That was the beginning of a more rapid increase in population around Silver Lake. A railroad station was constructed, and a man named Wild, whose home is still on Silver Lake constructed a road to the railroad, today called Wild Avenue.

There was an increase in population around the lake, among whom were more than a few from Ireland. People from Silver Lake and South Tewksbury found the new station to be a handy place. About 80 persons would ride to Boston every morning on the 8:11, arriving at 8:30. They could all be in the office where they worked at 9 a.m.

About 1875 a family from the Lawrence-area moved to Chestnut Street in Wilmington and then later moved to the Clark Street area, near the Andover (Wildcat) Railroad. His name was Walter Hale. He had experience in the coal business, and near his home, he started a retail coal business. He branched out into an ice business, purchasing land at Silver Lake and Glen Road, where he constructed an ice house which later became several.

Walter and Christina Neilson were acquainted before Walter moved to Clark Street, where Walter lived for more than a few years. When he established his ice business, about 1912, both Christian and his brother Peter Neilson were, one could say, foremen in the job of cutting and storing ice into the ice houses.

The crew was about 20 in number, perhaps more. About 10 young men worked on the ice, and about the same number were "in the house" storing the ice. They were paid about 25 cents an hour.

The ice was cut in the central part of the pond, and a channel (canal) led to the elevator structure, where Pop (Christian) and another man would push the ice into the elevating structure with peavies.

The ice on the lake was "scored," with a sort of a knife by a man who drove a horse across the pond and then back, each time about a yard from the previous cut. Then that area was scored across, at right angles, making ice floats, which were pushed into the canal which led to the elevating area. Christian and his helper would slice off the individual cakes with steel peavies.

It was interesting, and one could say exciting. Small boys had to be kept away from the work areas. Ice cutting, each year began as early as possible in January and lasted about three weeks.

Then in the summer the "Walter Hale" ice wagons would make daily routes in Wilmington and Tewksbury, selling ice at each home as needed. Every home had a yellow card to be displayed in the front window, and depending on the position of that card the ice man would know that the piece of ice that was needed was a ten cent, a 15 cent or 20 or 25 cent piece. No card in the window meant no ice.

One of the youngsters in the Neilson family was a youth named Eddie. It was he who persuaded his father to purchase the farmhouse on the hill, (Glen Road). Eddie put in a lot of work to improve the situation.

The situation changed rapidly. The boys in the Neilson family set to work and improved the farmhouse. Several rooms were added, and a big room, for dining was constructed.

A big porch was constructed on the east side of the farmhouse, where summer visitors could sit and watch the new boarders drive up in their carriages. The farm house was a busy place, and a carriage shed was added on the other side of Glen Road, near the barn.

It was always called the "carriage shed," but it had a really smooth floor, suitable for dancing. Perhaps it was used for that purpose.

Several women were added to the kitchen staff, to assist in the cooking. What had been a small sitting or bedroom was enlarged into a large dining room. It is still there.

The home, as has been said, was on a hill. On that hill were nine magnificent elm trees. What could be a better name for it than "The Elms?"

Those magnificent trees are no longer in existence. Half a century ago the Dutch Elm disease destroyed all the elm trees in New England. Most elm trees seen in New England now are of the American Elm variety, resistant to the Dutch Elm disease.

Eddie and George, sons of Pop did a lot of work. Among their tasks was the construction of a tennis court down near Main Street. There are now several homes on the west side of Harnden Street, and one occupies the site of that tennis court.

Perhaps you're wondering where your pet peacock has wandered. Well, Wilmington's Pet Police, officially known as Animal Control Officer Ellen Davis pinched this peacock last week. It is currently living a dog's life in Davis' personal pound. She was able to approach the bird with only a little coaxing so it is assumed it a pet. Your pet? Call Davis at the Wilmington Police Dept. at 658-5071 this time. Coliform as defined in Webster's New World Dictionary is the aerobic bacillus normally found in the colon. She explained that it could have come from people, geese, or even the unusually high amount of rain we have had recently.

As far as cleanup goes, this one was pretty easy. Nature took over and remedied the situation itself.

"Nature took its course and it cleansed itself. We didn't do anything to it," DelGenio said. "Since we don't know where it came from, we don't know how to avoid it," DelGenio added. Hence, there is always the possibility it could happen again.

DelGenio tests the water daily and reports that, "the beach is very clean. It's all sand. This is something that you can't see."

Linda Covino acquires Realty Executives Franchise

WILMINGTON - Linda Covino who recently acquired the Realty Executives Franchise for the Wilmington, Tewksbury and the North Reading area, has returned from the world headquarters of Realty Executives International in Phoenix Ariz., where she has completed a comprehensive training program about the company's 100 percent commission concept.

The Realty Executives 100 percent commission concept, which was originated in Phoenix in 1965, allows real estate agents to keep their entire commission in exchange for a monthly broker's fee for services and facilities that are provided. Because Realty Executives agents make a financial investment in their business, the concept tends to attract veteran real estate professionals, who are more experienced, full time agents, rather than those who dabble in real estate sales as a past time.

The Realty Executives concept has proven to be especially beneficial to property buyers and sellers because it encourages agents to be more effective marketers and managers, producing greater results for clients. Realty Executives real estate agents have more individual visibility in the community and have freedom to manage and market in a manner that is best suited for the property and the client's needs.

Realty Executives, which is ranked among the fastest growing companies on the Inc. 500 in 1990 and 1991, provides residential and commercial property sales and leasing services, corporate relocation and referral services, land sales, asset management and property management.

Covino, who for 16 years as a Realtor in the community is the current President-Elect for the Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors. Covino specializes in residential real estate as well as new construction and is a member of the Realty Executives International Corporate Relocation Team. She has received numerous awards for her industry achievements in sales and volume and has been recognized for her community leadership.

The Realty Executives 100 percent commission concept, originated in 1965, is now the fastest growing real estate concept in North America. At Realty Executives agents receive individual recognition in the marketplace and specialized brokerage services that, in turn, give the agent the tools and flexibility to be more service oriented, efficient and productive for their own clients.

Realty Executives Northeast is located at 226 Lowell Street, Wilmington; 657-7010.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain

OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx[®] and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain.

ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. © 1997 PGC

The 4th of July spirit

WILMINGTON - The Friends of the Library gave true meaning to the spirit of the 4th of July with their first book sale which was held on Saturday, July 4. Community service was exemplified by the volunteers who organized the book sale, who worked many hours sorting and moving over 8,000 used books, and who came to help on the day of the sale. "It was labor intensive but extremely gratifying to see so many people willing to volunteer their time, especially on a holiday," said Karen Campbell, president of the Friends of the Library. According to Janet Cahill, Treasurer, the Friends' first book sale raised over $2300. All the funds raised by the Friends are used to improve the public library for the community.

Thanks to the Friends and congratulations on a great job!

Arlene TenDyke

For 26 years Arlene TenDyke has presented thousands of library story hours to preschool children at the Wilmington Memorial Library. She was honored last Thursday at "Time for Twos" story time program for her dedication to the Wilmington Library and to those children she delighted and inspired. Parents and children will remember her kindness, her attention to fears of a first experience without parents, and her empathy and understanding of children.

Mrs. TenDyke also volunteered many hours mending book bags and puppets or scrounging for props for library programs. She often provided her private collections for library displays and created many flannel board stories. She was invaluable in assisting with special programs, shelving and searching for books, helping with cleanup or whatever was necessary.

Mrs. TenDyke will be turning her attention to special projects at the library and offering advice and assistance as needed. Others wishing to congratulate Mrs. TenDyke may send wishes to her at the Wilmington Memorial Library.

The new winner of the "Mysterious Padlocked Trunk" mystery was Katharine McMahon who guessed that "a birds nest" was in the trunk. Congratulations to all the winners!

Those who contributed gifts for contest winners and programs were: Elia's Country Store, Designs by Don, Osco Drug of Wilmington, Video Paradise of Wilmington, Burger King of Wilmington, Burlington and Tewksbury and Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library.

Mystery trivia

If you are a Beanie Baby collector, do you know what "Chilly" the Polar Bear is worth? Do you know which Beanie Babies are retired? You can find the answer in the Beanie Family Album and Collector's Guide by Shawn Brecka (Ref. 790.132). This book includes colorful pictures of each Beanie Baby with birth dates, release dates and current value.

Beanie Baby information can also be found on the Internet at the following web site: <http://www.beanieworld.net/>.

Bookends

A few Bookends members met Thursday, July 9 to discuss Joy Luck Club by Amy Tan. Two liked the book giving it a thumbs up and one gave it a thumbs down. Copies of the book for the August meeting, Snow in August by Pete Hamill, are available at the library.

Handicapped entrance

A reminder to our patrons that there is an automatic door on the side of the library for handicapped patrons. This door which will open automatically by pressing a button can be used by patrons with strollers or carriages. Access is easier with baby equipment at this door than the double doors at the back entrance.

Trip of a lifetime

Cong. Markey, Air Force One ... and home from China

BY JAMES HAGGERTY

Cong. Ed Markey is still flying high.

It has been two weeks since he disembarked at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland with President Bill Clinton from his China trip, but for Markey, it was a trip of a lifetime.

President Clinton selected Markey, D-Malden, now the 24th senior member of the 435-member U.S. House of Representatives, as one of just six congressmen to accompany him to China.

And, Markey is still flying as he shows a bag of photos with himself on Air Force One, his visits with Chinese dignitaries, with the new leaders of China, and visits to places like the Shanghai stock exchange.

Markey also put this trip right in the category of the one with President Richard Nixon, who opened up relations with China in the early 1970s. References to the Nixon trip, he said, were much in evidence everywhere one visited.

ON AIR FORCE ONE WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON - Area Congressman Edward Markey (right photo) joined with President Bill Clinton on Air Force One just prior to landing in China in sweltering X'ian. Markey, who was highly visible on the trip to local television viewers, accompanied the president the next day to Tiananmen Square for the formal welcoming ceremonies (above).

"Bill (Clinton) made a major impact on everyone and especially the people," Markey said. "He talks in those deliberate, southern words and looks right at you. He created quite a dialogue."

Markey especially felt Clinton's one-on-one with top Chinese students in Beijing made a tremendous impression on the new leadership in China. Markey felt Clinton got every one of them to thinking - about the world community, economics, human rights and the role of China in the world in the next millennium.

"He would look right at them with that thoughtful expression and speak slowly so it could all be interpreted," said Markey.

"It was incredible, the entire experience, for them and for us," said Markey. "He challenged ideas in ways that were not offensive."

The local congressman, who had the back section in Air Force One with five other high-ranking Democrats, had a front-row seat to history-in-the making.

In leaving Air Force One on the return to the states, Markey turned to Rep. John Dingell, D-New York, a veteran of many years in Congress, and asked him: "How does this experience rate with all the others you've been on?"

Dingell raised a finger: No.1

Other congressmen on the trip were:

- Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Indiana;
- Sen. John D. Rockefeller, D-West Virginia;
- Sen. Daniel K. Akaka, D-Hawaii;
- Sen. Max Baucus, D-Montana.

Markey had taken off from Andrews AFB and landed at Elmendorf in Alaska. Air Force One had the range to go to China, however, security dictated a full tank of gas to head to mainland China, so it could make it back to the states, if necessary, as the world watched Clinton's latest foray into foreign diplomacy.

Including extensive Chinese and world-wide television coverage, Markey noted that

ANTHONY MANCONI

Atty. Victor Fanikos' Uncle Gregory is a Tailor and a Greek Scholar. Stephen Rappa brought a pair of torn trousers to him and Uncle Gregory asked, "EURIPIDES?" "Yes," Stephen replied, "EUMENIDES?"

I hope you're still with me after that GEM?

Aunt Nora's Grand Uncle Father Jeremiah Murphy was in his 80's and was getting more than a little forgetful. In a Sunday morning sermon he said, "On the Shores of Galilee, with 200 loaves of bread and 5 fishes, seven people were fed." Uncle John Shea, sitting in the front pew said out loud, "I could do that too!"

Later Fr. Murphy told the sexton, "I don't know why John Shea heckles me?" "Well," the sexton replied, "you had the text all wrong. It's with 5 Loaves of bread and 2 fishes a multitude was fed."

The following Sunday Fr. Murphy said, "I want to correct what I said last week. It's five loaves and two fishes and a thousand people were fed and what do you think of that John Shea?" "I could do that too!" "How?" "I'd just use what was left over from last week's sermon!"

Richie Gillis took his dog to the Vet. "My dog runs around and around in circles every morning for two minutes; why does he do that?" The Vet said, "you have a WATCH DOG and he has to WIND himself up every morning."

Former Sewer Dept. Supervisor, Dutchy Goldberg is the consulting engineer on a big job in, FLUSHING, LONG ISLAND.

Brian McCarthy Kelly's C.E.O. told Artie Perrin, "you are a half hour LATE, what's your excuse?" "I fell down a whole flight of steps coming to work this morning." "And that took you a half hour?" Brian asked. "Yes" Artie replied, "I fell down ONE STEP at a time."

Roger Moore Sr., told a panhandler, "I'm sorry Sir BUT, I'm working this side of the street."

The doctor told George Gould, "the pain in your knee is arthritis caused by getting 'STIFF' in every JOINT!"

Missy Palladino waltzed into the office with cigars for the men and an expensive box of candy for the women. I asked her, "What's the occasion Missy?" "It's a Boy!" she shouted, "Six foot tall and 160 pounds!"

Jimmy Fanikos returned a Canary to the pet shop and told the manager, this canary is LAME." "Well, what the heck did you want, a SINGER or a DANCER?"

About The Towns by Phyllis Nissen

Working together now and then

'The best shape' in Reading

"The town's police officers and Chief Edward Marchand were paid a very large public compliment at a...Board of Selectmen meeting, as the Selectmen were apprised of the results of the recently conducted Staffing Review of the department," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Earl Sweeney, president of EMS Consultants, the independent firm hired to conduct the review said 'Reading is in the best shape of any town they had studied,' calling the department a 'disciplined, professional, well-run organization.' He also acknowledged Chief Marchand as doing a particularly good job."

"Sweeney noted that he did not see a reason to return to the pre-Proposition 2.5 staff of 44 officers, but recommended adding one to the current total of 40. He also recommended promoting an existing officer to Sergeant and having 'no less than three' officers on at a time 'and whenever possible, three plus a supervisor.' The additional one officer would bring Reading up to what the average number of officers is for a town of its size."

"Some of the suggestions made by Sweeney have been implemented by the Department already, and others, according to Chief Marchand, cannot be due to budgetary restraints. In fact, Chief Marchand bristled when asked by the Board to work with Town Manager Peter Hechenbleikner on an action plan based on the study. 'I agree with 98 percent of what (Sweeney) says,' he said, 'but 90 percent cannot be done, and 80 percent I would have done already if I had the budget.' He also noted some of the changes cannot be made because of contractual agreements."

"Several times in his presentation, Sweeney noted that the Chief's 'hands are tied' in many cases due to contracts, and noted that as something the Town may want to look at the next time there are negotiations...."

A 'budding celebrity' in Wilmington

"The town of Wilmington has unearthed yet another budding celebrity," notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

"Lifelong Wilmington resident Paul Chalifour has written a book titled, 'Images of America - Wilmington.'"

"Chalifour never dreamed he would write a book, actually he never had any interest in it. He has always been interested, however, in history. He has always enjoyed reading historical novels and watching television shows about historical events. But it all really began in his own back yard."

"Chalifour went to the town hall looking for information on his own home, trying to find out who might have lived there and how old it was. He did learn that his home on Hopkins Street dated back to the early 1820's. While he was scouting for information, the historical commission asked, since he showed such an avid interest in the subject, if he would like to sit on the board. Shortly thereafter he was appointed to the historical committee."

"By his second meeting with the board Chalifour asked the other members if they were familiar with the series of books called Images of America. They showed great interest and sent to the publishers for more information. There are between fifty and sixty of these books written about cities in Massachusetts alone. There have been two written about Lowell. And now Chalifour wanted one about Wilmington."

"The book consists mostly of pictures of people and places in Wilmington, all of which had to be dug up and gone through by interests for the schools and the Recreation Department to work more closely with regard to facility use, facility maintenance, athletic field improvements, landscaping improvements, and collaborative programs."

"It was further agreed to establish a subcommittee to identify issues that need to be addressed by the two departments."

"The subcommittee is made up of Recreation Committee Chairman Ed Schuler, Murphy, Athletic Director Don Dabernigro and Recreation Maintenance Director Doug Gillingham...."

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10 town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About the Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867.

A joint effort in Burlington

"School Committee chairman Thomas F. Murphy Jr. recently attended a Recreation Commission meeting to discuss issues of common interest and to encourage officials of the School Department and the Recreation Department to increase efforts to collaborate," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Murphy and members of the Recreation Commission agreed it would be in the town's best

Ed Markey

From S-1

China has taken a giant leap into the leading industrial communities of the world. In fact, many would rate China a number even ahead of a fragmented Russia as the top player these days on the world stage.

And, it would be China that the United States should be monitoring closely.

The new political leadership, said Markey, has come from Shanghai. "They are young and have different ideas," he said.

The main aspect of the trip was an attempt to begin opening Chinese markets to U.S. goods and services with a current trade imbalance of $50 billion.

And Markey too went with an eye toward opportunity for some local companies like John Hancock Insurance and Boston Technologies (located in Wakefield), hoping to open doors for area telecommunications and financial companies.

Markey noted China is currently in the top 10 when it comes to exporting goods into the U.S., but on a par with the Netherlands when it comes to accepting U.S. exports.

"They keep up the barriers partially to protect their economy, but partially to protect their culture," Markey said, noting the Chinese are very aware that their country dates back some 5,000 years.

The trip, Markey noted, was arranged to first provide a taste of the ancient culture of China in the city of Xi'an, then moving to Beijing and Shanghai, to view what would be considered modern China, and then to Hong Kong, to get a look at, in many ways, the future.

One day, Markey noted, the convoy was in an area where the median income is $100 to $300 a year; then they moved on to Hong Kong, which is "the New York City of Asia," with all the modern conveniences.

1.2 billion people

Markey repeated over and over the figure 1.2 billion, which is the number of people in China.

"You can't ignore one-quarter of the world's population," he said. "You can't ignore a country this potentially sophisticated and powerful."

He noted the country's gross national product (GNP) is growing at a rate of about 10 percent a year, compared to about 3 percent a year for the United States.

If this rate of growth continues, the two countries will have the same size economy by the year 2010, he said. The difference, Markey noted, would be that the Chinese economy includes some 1.2 billion people whereas the U.S. population is about a fifth of that.

How many people is 1.2 billion. Markey quipped that when a new "super highway" was built to the Great Wall of China, a snow storm hit the day before the official opening. With no snow removal equipment, what did they do? They simply took about 100,000 people and shoveled off the 50-or-so miles of the new roadway.

Another example he gave involved the president accepting an invitation for a boat ride down the main river of Shanghai.

Aside from the normal security measures, including Navy Seals swimming alongside the boat, the Chinese government positioned a police officer in every room with a window overlooking the river, again a staggering number.

The future:

One stop on the trip was in Shanghai, where, Markey quipped, he saw "the new Red Army" — some 500 industrious young business people dressed in red, working the floor of the stock exchange, pursuing capitalism in its most basic form.

These are individuals, he said, that will hopefully lead the Chinese companies and economy into the future.

Markey noted that over time the U.S. economy base went from agriculture to industry to technology.

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: Name the first three black managers in major league baseball. Can you also name the teams they managed? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•A number of locals are taking part in the Peoples Beach to Beacon 5K race to benefit the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Maine. They are: Reading - William Morgan; Wakefield - Kelly Seibel; Wilmington - Robert Wilcox; Woburn - Dan Callahan, Conni Otradovec, John Lally, William Webster, and Maureen Webster.

•Need a clue or two to help solve the trivia mystery? One is Frank Robinson.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Frank Robinson managed the Cleveland Indians in 1975, Larry Doby managed the Chicago White Sox in 1978, and Maury Wills managed the Seattle Mariners in 1980. Congratulations to those who answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column,

Correction

In last week's article on Grand Marshall Charles Curran the number of Marines that died on Iwo Jima should have read 5,000. They were responsible for saving the lives of 25,000 airmen.

This action expedited the end of the war in the Pacific Theater.

Summer finally arrived at LeLachur Stadium in Lowell this past week. As the weather warmed so did the baseball.

A week ago the Spinners absorbed a 12-3 pasting at Centennial Field in Burlington, Vermont watching their record fall to 7-14. The Lowell team was firmly planted in the McNamara Division cellar, six games behind the streaking Expos, as they sat out a rain postponement the next night before heading back home for a weekend series with the league-leading St. Catherine's Stompers.

A tough 9-7 series opening loss at LeLachur on Thursday did little to raise spirits. And then the Dan arrived.

Dan Duquette, Boston Red Sox General Manager and lighting rod for critics throughout the New England media, stopped in at the brand new ballpark on the Merrimack last Friday and Saturday. The Spinners must have realized that the boss was watching. The club rose up to whack the Stompers both nights before bowing on Sunday to St Catherine's seventeen year old Venezuelan wunderkind Diegomar Markwell and settling for a split of the series.

The team will be back in Vermont for games on Friday and Saturday nights following the brief home set with Pittsfield, and return home for a Sunday-Monday match-up with the Watertown Indians.

Ryan Kearney, UMASS Lowell star during the 1997 season, will be coming home as a member of the Indians. Game time on Sunday is 5:00 pm. Monday night will be a 7 O'clock start.

MARITIME FESTIVAL IN GLOUCESTER

One of the highpoints of Gloucester's anniversary this summer will be the celebration of its 375 years as a fishing port on July 18 at the Gloucester Maritime Heritage Festival organized by Gloucester Adventure, Inc. From 10 am until nightfall, Harbor Loop in downtown Gloucester, from the Fitz Hugh Lane House to the Gloucester Marine Railways, will be packed with activities, demonstrations, stories, games, music, food and more, in a family-oriented celebration of Gloucester's maritime traditions and trades.

Dory-buildings, gillnetting, net mending, and many other fishing-related trades will be demonstrated throughout the day. Eleventh-generation Essex Shipwright Harold Burnham, designer and builder of the schooner Thomas E. Lannon and the Lewis H. Story (Essex Shipbuilding Museum's Chebacco boat now under construction) will demonstrate vessel design through the building of half-models.

Throughout the day, festival visitors can listen to the music of Connecticut maritime groups "Compass Rose" and "Rum-soaked Crooks," as well as local favorite "Jule Younger Band," traditional Celtic musicians Greg Morrow and Laura Ritchie, and kids' troubador Scott Kepnes. Storytellers Tony Toledo and Merrill Kohlhofer will tell Stories of the Sea.

For further information, call Adventure at 978-281-8079.

MINUTEMAN NEEDS DRIVERS

POPS AND BLUES FEATURED IN LOWELL

Great entertainment is yours this summer in Lowell, when regionally and nationally known artists take the stage at Boarding House Park. Bring your lawn chair or blanket, pack a picnic supper and enjoy contemporary folk, blues, big band, Irish, pops concert favorites, and lots more. Easy to find, Lowell is located 28 miles north of Boston off interstates 93 and 495 and Route 3.

On Friday, July 17, the Lowell summer concert band with Douglas Worthen, flute soloist, presents Music of the Great Broadway Composers featuring Pops favorites, including the music of Jerome Kern, Cole Porter, Leonard Bernstein, and Andrew Lloyd Webber played by Lowell's own 50-piece Pops band.

Ronnie Earl and the Broadcasters take the stage on Saturday, July 18, W.C. Handy winner as "Best Blues Guitarist", Earl is one of the most inspiring and innovative blues guitarists today. Earl and his band play an amalgam of blues, rock, R&B, soul, and jazz. His music has been called "a living history of Boston Blues" by the Boston Globe.

Affordable for the whole family, admission to the Lowell Summer Music Festival is $5 at the gate with children 12 and under free. The summer-long festival is presented by the University of Massachusetts Lowell, The Lowell National Historical Park, and The Lowell Festival Foundation. In the event of rain, performances move to the newly renovated Lowell High School auditorium, across the street from Boarding House Park.

Avoid stress injuries

You can exercise at work

Get to work! The best place to work at preventing and treating repetitive stress injuries, such as carpal tunnel, syndrome, may be at work.

Simple strengthening and stretching exercises, which can be performed at a desk, may do the job for workers suffering from painful repetitive stress injuries.

Here are a few exercises to stretch out your work day. Before starting any exercise program be sure to discuss it with your doctor.

- To stretch your hand, start with the palm flat down on the table, fingers spread. Arch the hand by pressing down with the thumb and little finger (almost like a mini-pushup for the hand). Count to five, then release. Repeat ten to fifteen times, two or three times a day.

- Place the palms of your hands together and push, raising your elbows to increase the stretch. In the beginning, five to ten seconds may be the longest you can hold this position without strain. Repeat five times.

- Make a fist, keeping the thumb outside. Bend your wrist forward, without forcing as far as it will go. Rotate your wrist in the widest circle possible. Allow 15 to 20 seconds to complete each circle. Complete two circles in one direction, then repeat in the other direction.

- To stretch your arms and shoulders, lace your fingers together above your head, palms facing up. Stretch your arms up and slightly back.

- To release tension, slowly shrug your shoulders as high as you can, hold for a count of five, then release. Repeat five times.

- To rotate your shoulders, clasp hands behind the back. With arms extended straight, slowly lift arms upward.

- To stretch your chest and upper back, lace your fingers behind your head. Stretch back, trying to make your elbows touch.

Another way to help hands and fingers feel limber is a pair of gloves designed especially to fight hand and wrist pain.

External otitis

Swimmer's ear is common

It's that time of season, millions of people flock to their favorite swimming spots to beat the summer heat. Unfortunately, it is also the time when some of these people flock to a hospital emergency room for treatment of a painful ear infection called swimmer's ear.

"Swimmer's ear is one of the most common ear problems seen by ear, nose and throat physicians (otolaryngologists) during the summer months," says Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary otologist Steven Rauch, M.D.

Medically known as external otitis, swimmer's ear is an infection of the outer ear canal that occurs mainly during humid, hot weather. It often is initiated by trauma, such as a scratch in the ear canal; or by swimming, as prolonged exposure to water softens the ear canal's skin allowing bacteria to penetrate the skin and cause an infection.

According to Dr. Rauch, early symptoms of swimmer's ear include pain in and around the ear, often aggravated by movements of the jaw. In later stages, the infection may cause the ear canal to swell shut, resulting in hearing loss; there may be discharge from the ear; and the pain can become excruciating.

Treatment for swimmer's ear can include antibiotic ear drops, oral antibiotics, and pain medication. In some cases, a wick is inserted in the ear canal to help dry out the ear. "Fortunately," says Dr. Rauch, "the majority of cases of swimmer's ear are preventable." He offers the following tips for protecting the ear and preventing ear infections:

- Do not use pens, cotton swabs or other objects to clean the ears or to remove wax from the ear canal. A healthy ear usually is self-cleaning.

- Remove any water from the ear canal after swimming or showering by placing a dropper of rubbing alcohol in each ear. The alcohol works as an antiseptic and dries out the ear canal as it evaporates.

- Use a hair dryer on a low, warm setting to blow warm air into the ear to speed up the water's rate of evaporation.

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

'Friend in Need' in Woburn

"Woburn children will again participate in the 'Friend in Need' program sponsored by the Woburn National Bank through their schools," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The program will benefit the Food Pantry at the Woburn Council for Social Concerns and will help replenish the pantry...for the summer months."

"Last year, Woburn families donated scores of nonperishable food items and toiletries through the 'Friend in Need' program, according to Committee members from the Woburn National Bank. Collection boxes were placed in the schools and the children were encouraged to donate items to the food pantry.

"The 1998 'Friend in Need' program was launched town-wide in April at all five bank locations, with the school program being on May 1. Collection boxes were placed in all schools and bank representatives periodically collected the items for delivery to the Woburn Council for Social Concerns."

"The food pantry is called upon quite extensively to help feed local families during the summer months," Dr. Louise Nolan, Woburn's Assistant Superintendent of Schools said. "By collecting these items in the spring, we can be sure that there is enough food and other essentials available to help when the demand is greatest. We are pleased to be a part of such a worthwhile and important program...."

With 'Honor' in Winchester

"Winchester Honor Society members include Marissa Kutner, Mary Beth Dooley, Jamie LeBlanc and Tom DaMassa," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Kutner and DaMassa are outstanding seniors who coordinated and participated weekly in a free Spanish-French tutoring program for McCall Middle School seventh graders. Juniors Dooley and LeBlanc also participated in the tutoring program. McCall principal Evander French Jr. hosted a pizza party along with World Language Department head Phil Day, Spanish teacher Marielle Bentley and guidance counselor Becky Jacques to show their appreciation for all who participated in and benefited from the tutoring program."

After school in Tewksbury

"Forty six students took advantage of a pilot program for After School Enrichment Classes, sponsored by the Parent Advisory Council," notes the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"The PAC surveyed families, students, and staff for topics of interest and convenient times."

"The most requested courses of interest were Introduction to Computers; Introduction to French; creative writing and drama. Unfortunately the PAC was unable to secure a French instructor for this pilot program but is looking forward to offering this course in the fall."

"Twelve students in grades three through five participated in the Introduction to Computer under the direction of Mrs. Mary Manseau. They learned proper typing techniques, data storage and retrieval from floppy disks, and worked on creative stories and poems with word processing software."

"Thirty four students in grades K-Five participated in a double session of Theatre Arts, led by Mrs. Trudi Henneimuth and Mrs. Judith Fitzgerald. These students explored role playing, verbal expression and puppetry. Groups of approximately seven children each treated parents, friends and family to short puppetry skits during the final session. One group even chose to write an original story, 'The Fox and the Bird'."

"More than 95 percent of the students who enrolled in these programs had perfect attendance which indicates to the PAC that this service is valuable and desirable to the families of Trahan...."

Doing What We Do Best

At Sybase, we recognize that our customers need innovative solutions — and developing exciting ideas and providing solutions is what we do best. We offer integrated business solutions to provide customers with an open, adaptable information systems architecture, enabling them to develop and deliver complete information solutions and facilitate rapid business change.

The following Sales positions are available in our Concord, MA facility:

Director, Teleoperations (Telesales)

Implement teleoperations strategies and programs to meet assigned revenue objectives and profit margins. To this end, you'll be tasked with developing sales forecasts for long-range planning; helping coordinate effective sales of products and services; establishing new accounts in key growth areas; and measuring current business conditions and future trends. In addition, you'll lead customer issue resolution efforts, shape and communicate a teleoperations vision based on Corporate and NAS goals. Requires a BA/BS in an applicable discipline or equivalent, and 11+ years' sales experience, with 3+ years' in telesales management preferred. Job Code: DTWTM712

Telesales Representative

Play an integral role in meeting district product revenue objectives with high level interaction with field sales force in a team selling model. Specifically, this will entail following-up on all sales leads in a timely manner, maintaining appropriate prospect information, and providing input to sales forecasts. You'll also qualify business opportunities for further assessment by proactively initiating outbound calls. In addition, you'll provide quotes in accordance with customer contracts and assist in escalated customer service resolutions. Requires a BA/BS in an applicable discipline or equivalent, 1+ years' software sales experience, and familiarity with Sybase products at a positioning level. Job Code: TRWTM712

Inside Sales Representative

In this quota-carrying position, you'll demonstrate your keen ability to cross-sell Sybase product offerings/services and increase sales within an assigned territory. You will successfully manage forecasts against revenue objectives as well as prospect, develop and close opportunities, and interact with Sybase channel partners. Requires a BA/BS in an applicable discipline or equivalent, and 3+ years' software sales experience. Under minimal supervision, you must also possess the ability to articulate the Sybase "story" and key business benefits of our offerings by phone as well as broaden and cultivate potential sales. Job Code: ISRWTM712

Inbound Sales Representative

Responsible for qualifying sales opportunities over the telephone by asking the prospect a series of qualifying questions to generate leads for the Sybase sales organization. Must have the ability to handle a high-volume of calls and have a basic understanding of technical products. Additional duties include performing data entry into a contact management system, processing low-end software and documentation orders, registering prospects for sales seminars, and fulfilling literature requests. Requires a BA/BS or equivalent experience and a minimum of one year of call center/telemarketing or customer service experience. Must have excellent communication skills. Job Code: ITRWTM712

The following Software Engineering positions are available in our Concord, NH facility:

Sustaining Engineers

Requires a BS in Computer Science or equivalent, plus 3+ years' software engineering experience with C, databases and SQL. Candidate requires a working knowledge of operating systems and platforms, primarily HP UNIX, AIX UNIX, Sun Solaris, VAX/VMS, AXP/VMS and Win NT. Knowledge of SQL Server, RDB, Informix, Oracle or Ingress also a plus. Job Code: SEWTHM712

QA Engineers

Requires a BS in Computer Science or equivalent, 3+ years' software engineering and experience with database and SQL in a QA or testing role. Ability to design, run, and automate test suites is essential. Broad knowledge of operating systems and platforms, primarily HP UNIX, AIX UNIX, Sun Solaris, VAX/VMS, AXP/VMS or Win NT a plus, as is knowledge of SQL Server, RDB, Informix, Oracle, or Ingress. Job Code: QAWTHM712

For all positions, please forward your resume, INDICATING POSITION OF INTEREST AND JOB CODE, to: Sybase, Inc., Attn: E. Marcoux, 77 South Bedford St., Dept. NAS-East, Burlington, MA 01803. Fax: 781-564-6165. Email: ellen.marcoux@sybase.com. No phone calls, please. EOE.

Fabulous Ferncroft Estates

Here's your chance for a luxurious lifestyle in a prestigious golf course neighborhood within an easy drive to Routes 95, 128, and 93. Now under construction in its finishing stages, this impressive 10 room home boasts the ultimate in curb appeal.

This majestic home is perched on a magnificent corner in a neighborhood of $700,000 to $1,000,000 homes. Upon completion, extensive landscaping will be completed to include a sprinkler system so that your home will be showplace perfect even in the middle of the dog days of Summer.

Designed to please the eye, this 4,000 SF abode boasts Grade A living space. As you enter the front door, you, too, will be pleasantly surprised by the dramatic open foyer, flanked by the formal living and dining rooms, both with walk out bays which add to the size and character of these most formal rooms. These areas are all completed with hardwood flooring and superlative moldings.

To the left of the living room, as you enter through a glass French door, is a magnificent 24x24 gameroom. Certainly ideal for a billiard table, wide screen tv, hobbyist train set or any other of a thousand uses, not to mention everyday living.

To the rear of the foyer and dining room, you will be pleased to spend time cooking and entertaining in this dreamy, light cherry kitchen. Planned for the finest appliances, this showplace

A first floor half bath and laundry center are conveniently placed for easy access from the kitchen, family room and great room as well from the oversized deck off the atrium door leading to the rear of the home overlooking a serene wildlife sanctuary.

The opening from the kitchen to cathedral ceiling family room says casual elegance. With a magnificent round top window, this room was designed to be a showplace: ideal for reading the paper, relaxing after a long day at the office or entertaining friends on a snowy winter afternoon in front of a roaring fire in this masonry fireplace with rounded hearth opening.

Leading to the second floor and all the way to the third floor is one of the most spectacular staircases that you will ever see.

The second floor offers a master suite that one usually only dreams of. A cathedral ceiling master bedroom with plant loft, completely separate dressing room with lighted vanity and walk in closet that is the size of many bedrooms plus a bath complete with whirlpool and tiled shower and double sized cherry vanity. Also, you will be pleased with three generous bedrooms, a full bath and stairway to a finished room on the third floor. Complete with recessed lighting, heat and air conditioning, this space is certainly right for a home office.

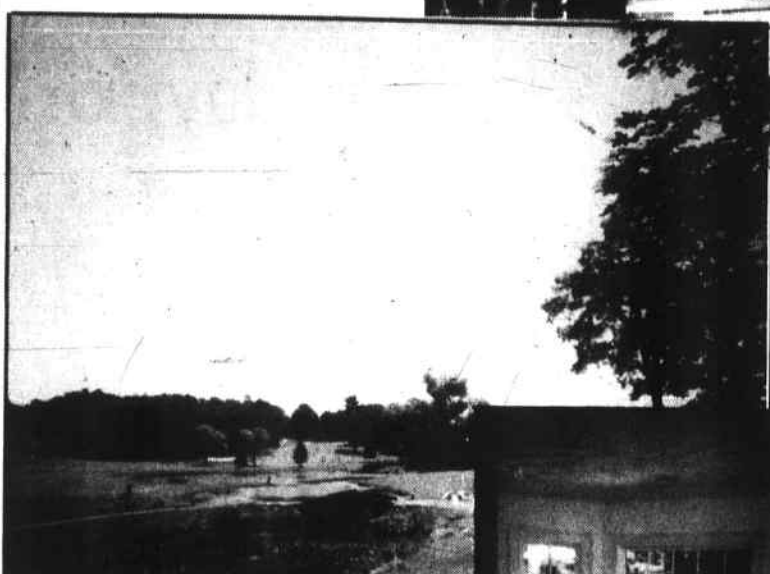

systems have been designed for a home of this magnitude and are available for your inspection Sunday from 1 to 4 pm.

The property is listed for $649,000 with Dave O'Neil at Century 21 Spindler and O'Neil.

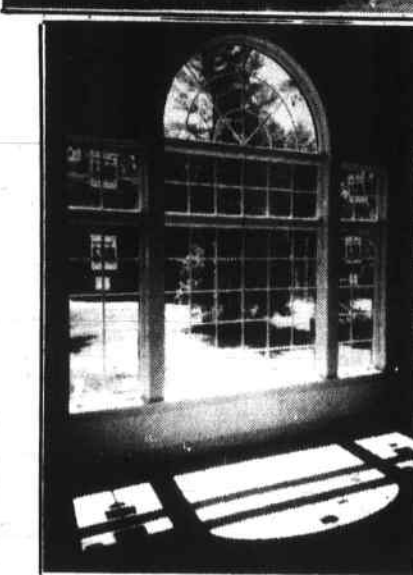

For more information or a private showing, call 978-664-1094 or 781-944-2100 ext 27
